Our no-fuss Detention kits fit quickly and simply to your rainwater tank, allowing a portion of the tank to be used as a free draining buffer, slowing down the water before it hits the stormwater system.

Our made-to-measure system allows easy adjustment of the proportion of water saved and amount of water buffered in the tank. This means that you can tailor the solution to meet the specifications of the hydraulic engineer. Don't throw money down the drain, meet your compulsory water storage obligations quickly and inexpensively with a Detention Kit from Kingspan.
